

Full Stops, Capital Letters, Exclamation and Question Marks

1 Which sentence below is correctly punctuated?

Tick one.

We're so pleased that Mrs smith has moved next door.

my dad is going to London in the morning.

It's almost time for bed, isn't it?

"What an amazing sculpture that is"

1 mark

2 Why do the words in bold in the sentence below begin with a capital letter?

We visited Buckingham Palace in London, England, which is the home of Queen Elizabeth II.

1 mark

3 Underline the words that should start with a capital letter in the passage below.

on wednesday, mr burrows told us about the first astronauts in space.
we looked at pictures of the earth and we could make out the atlantic ocean and the continent of africa.

1 mark

4 Insert the missing punctuation mark in the sentence below.

It's a bit late to start watching a film, isn't it

1 mark

Full Stops, Capital Letters, Exclamation and Question Marks

5 Which punctuation mark should be inserted in the place indicated by the arrow? Tick one box.

"What an amazing story that was " gasped Milo as his teacher closed the book.

Tick one.

question mark

comma

full stop

exclamation mark

1 mark

6 Correct the punctuation in the following sentences. One has been done for you.

D

due to the unusually hot summer, we were allowed to bring water bottles to school the head teacher, mrs stephens, even provided fans in the classrooms what a relief it was

1 mark

7 Rewrite the sentence below, using correct punctuation.

in august, we will drive to italy for a holiday

1 mark

Total marks /7

How am I doing?

