

Today we are going to look at words spelt 'ie'. Can you think of any and write them down on your whiteboards?

For example:

pie

tie

Look at these words below. What is different about them?

field

They are spelt the same but make a different sound.

Can you write this sentence and draw sound buttons on the ie words.

"Stop right there!" exclaimed the Chief. "You must tie your shoe laces before entering the pie shop."

Singular and Plural

Singular means that there is one of something, for example:

I have an apple.

Plural means that there is more than one of something, for example:

I have three apples.

Sometimes, to change a word from singular to plural you add a 's' to the end of the noun.
