

Apostrophes for possession

We can use an apostrophe (') with the letter s to show possession. This is when something belongs to someone or something else.

- The girl's bike is blue.
- The rabbit's hutch is near the wall.

Get started

Copy out these sentences, underlining the words that use apostrophes to show possession. One has been done for you.

1. It's lucky the cat cannot reach the bird's nest.
2. Just outside the lion's den there's a large tree.
3. You wouldn't be able to steal from the dragon's lair.
4. She's not able to see the badger's set from the path.
5. It's as sticky as a spider's web!
6. Michael's dad has made sure there's cake for us.
7. I hadn't meant to take my friend's bag.
8. He's comes to collect it from my mum's house.

